WHAT IS THIS PRODUCT?

Type: SICAV

Term: Open-ended.

Objectives:

Principal assets traded:

Equities of companies in the field of oncology (cancer research, diagnosis, treatment, etc.) whose registered offices and/or principal activities are throughout the world.

Investment strategy:

The fund seeks to achieve capital growth by investing in the principal assets traded and to outperform the benchmark while also generating a positive social impact over the long term, by selecting companies that address certain societal challenges and mobilise resources in the fight against cancer.

The management team makes discretionary investment choices based on economic/financial analyses, but also on the basis of Candriam's internal analysis of environmental, social and governance (ESG) criteria.

There are several strands in the selection of securities: a thematic filter, a clinical analysis and a fundamental analysis.

The thematic filter only accepts companies with a sufficient exposure to oncology and the battle against cancer in general, for example in areas such as treatments, diagnostic tools, medical equipment and services, and dedicated technologies.

The clinical analysis aims to assess the quality of the available clinical data and to use only companies found to be convincing in this respect.

The fundamental analysis focuses on those companies scoring the highest in five criteria: quality of management, growth potential, competitive advantage, value creation and indebtedness.

To achieve its social objective, the fund seeks to outperform the benchmark in two social indicators (i) research and development spending as a proportion of the company's market capitalisation and (ii) the level of education of management teams, measured as the percentage of senior executives holding a doctorate, with the aim of evaluating the human and financial resources mobilised by the companies in the battle against cancer.

The issuers are evaluated on the basis of an analysis of their activities (to assess how their activities relate to the battle against cancer) and stakeholders (how the companies manage the main considerations concerning stakeholders such as human resources, the environment, etc.).

In particular, the fund aims not to select companies with the lowest ESG scores, and to focus the investments on companies which deliver solutions in the field of oncology. The analysis of ESG aspects is therefore included in the selection, analysis and global evaluation of companies. The fund also aims to exclude investments in companies which do not respect certain recognised international standards and principles, or which are significantly exposed to certain controversial activities, or which work with countries considered to be the most oppressive. The analysis of ESG aspects depends on the availability, quality and reliability of the underlying data. It is therefore possible that the management teams is unable to select a company with an attractive financial valuation. The analysis and selection process is also accompanied by active involvement, in particular dialogue with companies and voting as the shareholder at AGMs. For more information, please see the management company's website and/or the prospectus.

The fund may make use of derivative products for both investment and hedging purposes (to protect against future unfavourable financial events).

Benchmark: MSCI World (Net Return).

The fund is managed actively and the investment approach implies a reference to a benchmark (the index).

Benchmark definition:

The index measures the performance of the large and mid capitalisation equity segment across developed markets countries.

Use of the benchmark:

- as an investment universe. In general, the financial instruments of the sub-fund are mostly contained in the index. However, investments outside this index are authorised;
- in determining risk levels/parameters.

As the fund is managed actively, it does not aim to invest in each component of the index nor to invest in the same proportions as the components of the index. In normal market conditions, the expected tracking error of the fund will be large, i.e. above 4%. This measure is an estimation of the divergence of the fund's performance compared to the performance of the benchmark. The greater the tracking error, the greater the deviations from the index. The actual tracking error depends in particular on market conditions (volatility and correlations between financial instruments) and may therefore differ from the expected tracking error.

WHAT ARE THE RISKS AND WHAT COULD I GET IN RETURN?

The SRI assumes you keep the product for 6 years. The actual risk can vary significantly if you cash in at an early stage and you may get back less.

Risk indicator

The summary risk indicator ("SRI") is a guide to the level of risk of this product compared to other products. It shows how likely it is that the product will lose money because of movements in the markets or because we are not able to pay you.

We have classified this product as class 4 out of 7, which is a medium risk class.

This rates the potential losses from future performance at a medium level, and poor market conditions could impact the capacity of the fund to pay you.

Be aware of currency risk. In some circumstances, you may receive payments in a different currency, so the final return you will get may depend on the exchange rate between the two currencies. This risk is not considered in the indicator shown above.

Other risk(s) materially relevant not included in the SRI: Derivatives. Emerging markets. Liquidity. Concentration.

This product does not include any protection from future market performance. Please refer to the 'Risk' section of the prospectus for more details.

WHAT ARE THE COSTS?

The person advising on or selling you this product may charge you other costs. If so, this person will provide you with information about these costs and how they affect your investment.

Costs over Time

The tables show the amounts that are taken from your investment to cover different types of costs. These amounts depend on how much you invest, how long you hold the product and how well the product does. The amounts shown here are illustrations based on an example investment amount and different possible investment periods:

We have assumed:

- In the first year you would get back the amount that you invested (0% annual return). For the other holding periods we have assumed the product performs as shown in the moderate scenario.

- USD 10 000 is invested.

Investment 10 000 USD	If you exit after 1 year	If you exit after 6 years
Total costs	579 USD	3 565 USD
Annual cost impact *	5.8%	3.0%

* This illustrates how costs reduce your return each year over the holding period. For example it shows that if you exit at the recommended holding period your average return per year is projected to be 15.8% before costs and 12.8% after costs.

If the fund is part of another product, such as an insurance product, the costs shown here do not include any additional costs you may incur.

HOW LONG SHOULD I HOLD IT AND CAN I TAKE MY MONEY OUT EARLY?

Recommended holding period: 6 years

The choice of recommended holding period depends on the types of the underlying investments and on the associated degree of risk, which may be higher or lower. For example "equity" type products (higher risk) generally have a recommended holding period of six years (long term), and "bonds or money market" type products (lower risk) have a shorter recommended holding period (generally between two and four years for bond products or less than one year for money market products - medium term/short term). "Mixed" type products generally have a recommended holding period of between three and five years depending on the weighting of the types of underlyings. "Alternative" type products generally have a recommended holding period of three years.

Investors may request redemption of their units at any time under the conditions set out in "What will this investment cost me?". The shorter the holding period in relation to the recommended period, the greater the potential impact of any charges on the performance profile.
